COMMISSIONER'S NOTES

Greetings,

I hope this message finds you well. As we come to the end of another school year, I wanted to take a moment to reflect on the incredible achievements and memorable experiences we have witnessed throughout the fall, winter, and spring sports seasons. It has been a truly remarkable year for educational athletics, and I want to express my heartfelt congratulations and gratitude to each and every one of you.

Our member high schools have shown immense dedication, perseverance, and sportsmanship, both on and off the playing area. The commitment and passion demonstrated by our student-athletes, coaches, teachers, administrators, and parents have made this year's educational athletics program a resounding success.

During the fall, winter, and spring sports seasons, we witnessed outstanding athletic performances, moments of triumph, and personal growth. But it is important to remember that our focus goes beyond winning and losing. Our educational athletics program serves as a platform for holistic development, instilling values such as teamwork, leadership, discipline, and respect. It is through these experiences that our student-athletes learn important life lessons that will stay with them long after their high school years.

I extend my sincerest appreciation to all the coaches who have served as mentors and role models for our student-athletes. Your dedication, guidance, and commitment to their development have been instrumental in shaping their character both on and off the playing area. Your never-ending efforts and passion for educational athletics are truly commendable.

Furthermore, I would like to recognize the parents, families, and supporters of our student-athletes for their unwavering support and encouragement throughout the year. Your presence at games, your words of encouragement, and your commitment to their athletic journey have been invaluable.

To our student-athletes, know that I am incredibly proud of your achievements. Your commitment to hard work, determination, and sportsmanship has been inspiring to witness. You have shown that true success lies not only in the wins and losses but in the character and integrity you display.

As we celebrate the conclusion of another successful year, let us also express our gratitude to the entire school community. The teachers who support our student-athletes academically, the administrators who provide guidance and resources, and the fans who create an atmosphere of excitement and camaraderie—thank you for your contributions to the educational athletics program.

Finally, let us carry this momentum forward as we prepare for the upcoming year. Together, we can continue to nurture an environment that promotes the growth and well-being of our student-athletes, fostering the values of sportsmanship, leadership, teamwork, and respect.

As this is the final TuesNews for the 2022-2023 school year, I thank you once again for your unwavering commitment and dedication to educational athletics. I look forward to another successful year ahead. Enjoy your summer break!
