ANNOUNCEMENTS

Last Week, (January 12-17, 2026). was Winter Sports Officials' Appreciation Week in the SCHSL. Thank you to all the schools who showed appreciation to our Officials.

Our schools showed thanks to our officials who make our games possible. From pictures taken with officials to gifts and thank you cards, this week was a celebration of our officials.

Be on the lookout in TuesNews and on the SCHSL for our Spring Sports Officials' Appreciation Week coming this spring!

A list of participating schools can be found in the Officials' Whistle Column on page 13.

SCHSL Basketball Season Compliance Reminders

Below are a few important reminders for this basketball season. Please review these items carefully to ensure your school is in full compliance with NFHS and SCHSL basketball rules. Please share this information with your basketball coaches.

- Official Scorer Attire: Per NFHS Rule 2-11, the official scorer is required to wear or drape a black-and-white vertically striped garment. This requirement allows game officials to quickly and easily identify the official scorer at the scorer's table during all game situations.
- 5-Second Closely Guarded Rule: In accordance with South Carolina High School League (SCHSL) regulations, all schools and sanctioned events must use the 5-second closely guarded rule. There are no exceptions, including games that utilize a shot clock. This ensures consistency in the application of the 5-second closely guarded rule across all SCHSL contests.

ANNOUNCEMENTS

Officials' Spotlight

Throughout the year, we will shine the spotlight on the unsung heroes of high school sports, our officials. We will profile officials from different sports so that you can get to know them and why they do what they do.

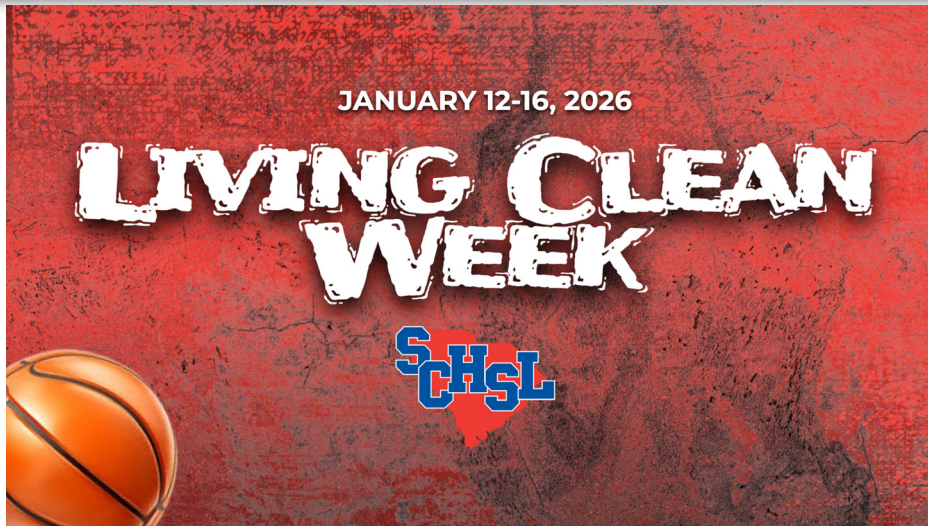

This month we spotlight Carlus Mansel – Wrestling.

- 1) How long have you been an official in the SCHSL? 21
- 2) What sports do you currently officiate? Wrestling
- 3) Is officiating your full-time job? If not, what is your profession? I am a mortgage banker by profession.
- 4) Why are you a high school official? It is a great way to still be part of a sport that I love. I believe in giving back to young people to help them achieve their dreams.

ANNOUNCEMENTS

Last week, January 12-16, 2026, was Living Clean Week in the SCHSL! Thank you to all the schools who participated.

Please submit pictures and videos of student athletes around the state showing their commitment to living clean! Remember, these activities count toward the sportsmanship award. The SCHSL can't wait to see what sportsmanship looks like all over our great state. Submit your photos in the form below or tag us in your posts with: #livingclean #sportsmanship #itsinthecontest.

Official Partner of the SCHSL

The South Carolina High School League (SCHSL) held a Virtual Leadership Summit, last Thursday, January 15, 2026.

We were fortunate to hear from three incredible speakers who shared powerful messages about leadership and growth.

Shaquill Leonard, recently retired NFL player, spoke about how leadership prepares you for the future and emphasized the importance of mentorship and building a strong foundation.

Our very own Student-Athlete Advisory Council President encouraged student-athletes to get involved in leadership early—reminding everyone that you don't have to be a captain to lead; you just have to start somewhere.

Lastly, Mrs. LaQuanna Jackson spoke about living vape-free, sharing valuable insight into the damaging effects vaping has on student-athletes and providing resources to help those who want to quit.

Thank you to all the schools that attended! The summit was highly interactive, meaningful, and filled with leadership lessons that will carry our student-athletes forward.

The South Carolina High School League would like to thank all the schools that participated in last week's Leadership Summit. Your involvement made this event a true success!

Visit the Tools for Success section on page 12 for a list of participating schools.

ANNOUNCEMENTS

The Health Spot

Recognizing Athlete Safety!

As temperatures drop, it's essential to prioritize the safety of our student-athletes during outdoor practices and workouts. Proper preparation and awareness can prevent cold-weather related injuries such as hypothermia and frostbite.

Coaches, athletic directors, and staff should be vigilant about monitoring conditions, ensuring athletes are appropriately dressed, and following cold weather protocols. For detailed guidance on maintaining a safe environment during colder months, please review our Cold Weather Guidelines here: SCHSL Cold Weather Guidelines.

Future Five Stars

Dedicated to Middle Schools in the SCHSL

Sportsmanship: A Cornerstone of SCHSL Middle School Athletics

As we continue through the winter sports season, the South Carolina High School League (SCHSL) would like to reaffirm the critical importance of sportsmanship during all middle school athletic contests.

Sportsmanship is a shared responsibility that reflects the values of education-based athletics—respect for opponents, officials, teammates, and the game itself. The conduct displayed by coaches and student-athletes during competition sets the tone for the environment in which our contests are played and serves as a powerful example for spectators and peers alike.

The SCHSL would also like to commend the many middle school coaches and student-athletes who have consistently demonstrated outstanding sportsmanship throughout the winter season. Your commitment to respectful behavior, emotional control, and positive leadership has not gone unnoticed and is greatly appreciated. These actions strengthen the integrity of interscholastic athletics and reinforce the mission of the SCHSL to promote character development alongside competitive excellence. We encourage all programs to continue upholding these standards as the season progresses.

All questions related to the information contained in this section, should be directed to Assistant Commissioner for Middle School Athletics, Dr. Lenard Hudnal, at Lenard@schsl.org.
